Thinking Out Loud

H. M. L.

The press of the country is by no means unanimous regarding the landslide which carried President Roosevelt into his second term. It is interesting to observe the wide divergence in view expressed not only in those states which are normally Republican but also in some of the states which are never anything but Democratic. However, nearly all editors hope that the great personal victory accorded the President will induce him to meet future problems with methods that are sound. In other words, that we shall have fewer costly and futile experiments.

"We believe the re-election of Mr. Roosevelt brings us a step nearer to the final goal of government—social justice," declares the Richmond News Leader (Dem.)

"The election is not a mandate for any reckless course," in the judgment of the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin (Ind. Rep.), although that paper voices the belief that "confidence in the man was sufficient to put other considerations and challenges aside."

"The magnitude of the victory must increase the President's sense of his obligation to all the people," concludes the Newark (N. J.) Evening News (Ind.), and the Baltimore Sun (Dem.) "hopes and believes that the President will find in victory that sense of humility which is the shield of the good and the great."

"If it could be hoped," says the New York Sun (Ind.), "that his overwhelming triumph at the polls would bring to the restless spirit in the White House the mood he showed more than a year ago, when he said that the breathing spell had arrived, the conservatives might rest easier."

"Closer up, however, is the vindictive speech in the Garden with its stern expression of the President's determination to be 'master.'

"What will be the effect of unparalled sweep upon a mind so tidal? Will he take it for granted that the vote was an unlimited grant of power to continue the experimentation which was so bold and often so futilet? Will he regard his victory as complete approval of all his policies?

"If the President thinks these things he is unwise."

"Certainly Governor Landon has nothing to regret," suggests the Los Angeles Times (Rep.). "The concentrated fire which he and his running-mate and associates directed against the New Deal theories forced their abandonment, at least for campaign purposes, even by their chief proponents. The President publicly renounced practically every one of those things for which his Administration has been chiefly opposed."

"The victory," as viewed by the Manchester (N. H.) Union (Rep.), "is the direct result of a combination of Leftist groups with a large part of the old Democratic party. This combination is not homogeneous in its aims and interests and the divisions that compose it are sure sooner or later to clash.

"It seems inconceivable that the bulk of the American people are ready to scrap the American system of Government and those principles upon which we have become a great nation. And yet unless the present situation is wisely directed, that is certain to be the ultimate result.

"The one source from which this direction must come is Congress."

"The people have given Mr. Roosevelt a blank check," states the Charleston (S. C.) News and Courier (Dem.). "It approves the abdication by Congress as an assertive branch of government and permits the President to borrow without limit, leave an unbalanced budget, create new offices, inflate the currency, regiment industry, enforce the doctrine of scarcity, retain the protective tariff, destroy state rights, enact the Costigan-Walker bill, change completely the nature of the republic. Open-eyed, the South Carolinas have voted for this almost unanimously. We are not saying that the President will do all these things, but the South Carolinans, whatever befalls, will have no right to mouth or whine."

"Today the President is sitting on top of the world," comments the New York World Telegram (Ind.), "When you sit there you can't sit any higher. The only direction in which you can move is down. So there is one thing on which you may count—the strain of holding will be the severest sort of test of the tensile strength of Roosevelt greatness during the next four years. . .

"He will go out either in a blaze of glory that will illumine the sky for future centuries, or he will go out dim some time between now and 1940, be recorded for a few decades as another who almost made it, and then known no more . . .

"Whether he lives up to the magnitude of his chance, as he has in his first four years, will be determined, we believe, in a very large degree by whether he has within him that rare capacity to rise above those perfectly human impulses which prevent most great men from attaining the full measure of their opportunity . . .

"The President's majority," states the New York Times (Dem.), "was so overwhelming as to brush aside all the neat little explanations of it that have been advanced. It had been charged, for example, that the Democrats had schemed to win the election through a great political machine built up and maintained by public funds. The cry was that WPA workers and those on relief were called upon to buy their bread with their ballots.

"But in the face of so tremendous an upheaval of popular sentiment in favor of Mr. Roosevelt, it is ridiculous to say that this Presidential election was bought. If there was a venal or intimidated vote of any size, it was so swallowed up in the flood of huge majorities for the President as to have counted for very little.

"The unexampled victory was personal to Mr. Roosevelt and not at all a product ground out by corrupt political machinery."

"Changing times," maintains the Hartford (Conn.) Times (Dem.), "have brought new conditions. The Roosevelt Administration has tried to meet them, sometimes with success, sometimes without. But it has tried and yesterday's obvious answer is overwhelmingly that the masses want it to keep trying."

BRIDGE OPENING CEREMONY HEARD BY 225 PUPILS

Through the efforts of Principal Walter Carlson of the Washington grammar school, a radio was secured yesterday forenoon and pupils of the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades numbering about 225 children, were assembled to hear the opening of the San Francisco-Oakland bay bridge on the Oakland side. Gov. Frank Merriam cut the chain with an acetylene torch and gave a speech. Mayor Angela Rossi of San Francisco also spoke. Other prominent persons called on for brief messages were, Ex-President Herbert Hoover, Earl Lee Kelly, state division of public works; State Engineer Purcell.

The children were deeply interested in the momentous event as it is considered the largest undertaking of its kind in the world, today.

The hall, if present plans are carried out, will be remodeled along lines suggested by Mr. Davidson.

James Snell, attorney for the club will speak at the Monday meeting and explain the club plans in detail. Citizens of Nevada City are invited to attend the meeting.

TICKETS NOW ON SALE FOR 'DOVER ROAD' COMEDY

Tickets are now on sale for "The Dover Road," the hilarious comedy by A. A. Milne, which is to be presented at the Nevada Theatre on November 17th, by a group of local people, under the auspices of the Women's Civic Improvement Club of Nevada City. They may be secured at the Colley and Foley candy stores, and the Grass Valley Union office, The Nugget Office, in Nevada City, and at the Golden Poppy in Grass Valley. Admission is fifty cents. Seats may be reserved at Foley's candy store in Nevada City.

Miss Lois Shaw, who is coaching the play, and members of the cast have been rehearsing almost daily for the past three weeks, devoting the evening practice periods to one act alone, in an effort to perfect each act before continuing with the next. Sunday afternoon, at the Nevada Theatre, a rehearsal of all three acts was held, and the cast is now beginning to have a definite idea of the appearance of the finished performance. With a few more days' practice the players feel that on the evening of the 17th they will be able to offer a performance which will leave nothing to be desired. In "The Dover Road" the public will find a witty, fast-moving comedy, well worth going out of their way to see.

Bring your friends to see "The Dover Road." The curtain rises at 8:15 o'clock. Music will be furnished by the Nevada City High School Boys' and Girls' Chorus, under the direction of Mrs. C. A. Libbey.

Frank Finnegan yesterday morning underwent an operation for the removal of his appendix. The operation was completely successful and it is expected he will make a quick recovery.

NEVADA CITY WOMAN LANDS 35 LB. SALMON

To Mrs. Imogene Henwood of Nevada City goes the honor of catching the largest salmon trout on Feather river, about a half mile below the dam and a mile from the town of Gridley, Wednesday, Armistice Day.

The big fish weighed 35 pounds and was caught from a boat in the river. It took a half hour of careful maneuvering to land it. It kept the two men also in the boat busy managing it while she followed the big creature.

Throngs were fishing and great excitement prevailed as the slender young woman maneuvered the line as the big fish raced under the boat, splashed water in waves over the little craft and then madly dashed up and down the stream.

While Mrs. Henwood is a good sportswoman and has caught fine trout this season in the mountain streams, she became a little nervous for a time when she discovered the size of the big finny beauty, but finally landed it neatly.

The next largest fish caught was a 14 pound one. Those in the party from Nevada City were Mrs. Henwood, and two children, Mrs. C. Muscardini, Elisha Curtis and Larry Seiker.

ROTARY HEARS GASOLINE STORY

In the absence of Frank Finnegan president of the Nevada City Rotary club yesterday, Hal Draper presided. Bob Evans gave an excellent description of the methods used in preparing gasoline fuel and told of the processes which make aviation and automobile fuels. H. M. Leete suggested that a contribution be made to the high school band toward a new musical instrument. The matter will be decided at a directors meeting Monday night. Harold Robinson, Dan Stewart and Howard Ross described the moving picture of the San Francisco-Oakland bridge, which was shown last Monday noon at the Rotary club luncheon in Grass Valley. An interesting sidelight was thrown on the subject by the statement of Hal Draper that large construction companies estimated one life lost for every million spent. He said that that had proved to be about the ratio between money and fatalities in the construction of the bay bridge. However, he pointed out, hardly a life had been lost, that was not due to the carelessness of workmen, or their failure to obey the rules of the company.

Miss Elaine Mobley, daughter of Judge W. L. Mobley and teacher in the Auburn schools, spent last week end at her home in this city.

ELKO, NEVADA TO RETURN MC DONALD

Extradition proceedings against John R. McDonald, held in Elko, Nevada on charges of issuing fictitious checks to Nevada county residents, have been successful and Sheriff Carl J. Tobiassen left Tuesday afternoon for Elko to return McDonald here. Governor Frank F. Merriam issued the writ of extradition for McDonald's return and it was honored by Nevada's governor.

McDonald will be brought before Judge W. Morehouse in the Grass Valley justice court at 10 o'clock Monday morning for a preliminary hearing.

PROBATION GRANTED; FAMILY LEAVES COUNTY

On the condition that he and his family leave Nevada county at once, never to return, Ambrose Clancy was given probation after he had pleaded guilty to a charge of failure to provide for his family. The recommendation for clemency and the condition came from Probation Officer A. W. McGagin in the superior court Tuesday morning. Clancy had asked probation. The family had not been in Nevada county long enough to acquire legal residence. The order to leave was based upon this together with the fact that the county could not become responsible for the maintenance of the family. Prior to the arrest and investigation of Clancy for dissapating his wages on liquor he and his family had received aid from the county.

HYDRAULIC MINERS TO MEET IN AUBURN

A meeting of the California Hydraulic Mining Association was held in Colfax last Saturday for the purpose of planning the work of securing yardage assurances from the mining interests of the Bear River watershed so that the proposed Bear River debris dam could be included in the government's program along with the other three dams propects for which yardage assurances have recently been forwarded to Washington. A large number of Colfax business men atteneded the meeting and assured the organization of their support in the undertaking.

Fred Harvey, a member of the inter-relations committee, reported that the assurances for the three other dams had been mailed to Washington on October 24 and indications were that they would be checked and approved within a month. Harvey also stated that he had been assured by government engineers that there is nothing to prevent the dams from being built.

Claude Clark, vice president gave a brief outline of the association's activities.

The next meeting was set for Saturday, November 14 and will be held in Auburn.

ARMISTICE DAY CELEBRATED BY TWIN CITIES

Armistice Day jointly celebrated by Nevada City and Grass Valley with stores and offices closed in observance of the occasion, a parade in Grass Valley during the morning hours, in which school children and patriotic organizations, exercises in Memorial hall, sports programs in the afternoon and a grand ball in the evening, proved one of the most memorable of the eighteen that have taken place since it was declared a holiday by Congress.

With the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Canadian Legion leading, the procession composed maily of bright faced school children, wound through the streets of Grass Valley, disbanding in front of Memorial hall. There services were held with Commander Joe Chamblis of the American Legion and Dr. Ward Johnson, program chairman, in charge. A silent prayer for the unknown dead, followed by "Taps" blown by Jack Nettell, and vocal instrumental music marked the ceremonies.

Following the exercises, the youngsters had their fun in sport and field contests. Under direction of W. D. Brann and Dudley Eldredge four races were held for boys, and four for girls between the ages of six and fourteen. There was a pie eating contest and a needle threading contest in which both boys and girls participated. Prizes were awarded winners in sports events.

In the evening banquets and ball closed the day's events. The Canadian Legion dined in Sierra hall, with the Canadian Auxiliary, The American Legion in Memorial hall, and the American Legion Euxiliary in Bret Harte Inn. A large crowd attended the ball in Memorial hall.

This Deadliest November

(Contributed)

As winter approaches and the rains begin in California, wise motorists are remembering that slippery roads mean death to the unwary.

Reasons for extra caution in wet weather are obvious enough, but for any who might be inclined to doubt the laws of physics, there are also statistics.

Last year November was the deadliest month on the streets and highways of California. There were 303 persons killed. December was next, with 301. The monthly average was 234.

To be on the safe side, it might pay to follow these suggestions offered last week by the California Highway Patrol: See that windshield wiper is in good condition and keep windshield clean, replace badly worn tires, learn how to stop without skidding, adjust brakes and lights, keep window open for hand signals, and avoid running on slippery rails.

California's accident record to date this year is appalling. By October first the toll was 2088 deaths, compared to 1945 on the same date of the previous year of record slaughter. No other state approaches this, New York being second with 1861 deaths.

When the year's final totals are counted, California will stand at the top of the national dishonor roll. It's too late now to avoid that disgrace. But it is not too late for extra caution to save many lives during the rainy, and deadliest, months to come.

If you love life, remember this. Just one skid at the wrong moment, and quick as a flash it's all over forever.

ABSENTEE VOTE ALSO FAVORS MAN IN WHITE HOUSE

That absentee voters cast their ballots much as county citizens who voted in their home precincts was shown yesterday with the completion of tabulation of the 294 absentee votes by the county clerk's office. Democratic electors polled 189 votes as against the Republican count of 89. One Social'st vote recorded and no Communist. These were the results tabulated following a canvas of all ballots by the county supervisors. Voters who have moved out of the county and those who are ill in distant hospitals comprise the majority of absentees. Most of the absentee votes were sent out from the clerks office to other parts of California although a few went to Oregon, Nevada, and Utah. One vote was sent to Montreal, Canada, to be carried over the border on election day and stamped within the United States. Another voter marked his ballot before a notary in Washington, D. C. and returned it here for the official tabulation.

CARVETH INS. BLDG. NEARING COMPLETION

Remodeling the Carveth Insurance Company office at the corner of Coyote and Main streets is rapidly being completed. Multi-colored tile in quaint Moorish pattern is being placed below the windows. The brick building will be painted cream and the grilled iron porch will be finished in green and brown stippling.

The pastor was examining one of the younger classes, and asked the question: "What are the sins of omission?" After a little silence one young lady offered:

"Please, sir, they're sins we ought to have committed, and haven't."

COURT HOUSE PROGRESS

The cement has set on the lower part of the new addition to the court house and forms are being removed. The winding stanway and well for the elevator, located in front and on the southeast corner of the immense building, have the forms off, giving some idea of how it will appear when completed.

Shippers Heard "Tie-Up" and Looked Over The Fence Into Railroad Yards

There's a locomotive idly puffing in its own steam at the Narrow Gauge roundhouse. Within a stone's throw are waiting freight cars, to be shunted to the main track on a moment's notice. In the rail yard is a primed and waiting motor delivery van. There's an air of preparation and waiting—the railroad is lined up for emergency.

Not over 150 miles from busy Nevada City and Grass Valley there exists an atmosphere of trade dulled through inactivity. Cargo laden steamers doze against the pull of lax anchor chains. The docks are dormant. River steamers rub pilings with coastal transports. Shippers that stormed against tie-up of waterway shipping channels are falling back to "a friend in need and a friend indeed"—the Railroad!

When shipping difficulties were felt on San Francisco-Sacramento river boat barges, shippers of the bay area swung their volumne to inland routing via rail lines. And freight moves on without interruption and with maintenance of delivery schedule upon which railroad men pride themselves.

Your Nevada County Narrow Gauge Railroad plays an important role in moving congested freight through its cooperative reception of locally consigned goods at Colfax, or by its direct Sacramento-to-Nevada County trucking service. In preparation for any emergency of maintaining schedules the Narrow Gauge maintains auxiliary "rolling stock"—ready to go on moment's notice! Another example of railroad service, dedicated to humanity!

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Byrd Smith and has many friends among the young people of Nevada City. Mr. Larson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Larson, he was born and reared in this city and is well known as one of Nevada City's upstanding young men. FIRE DESTROYS ANDERSON HOME AT BOSTON MINE

Fire supposedly from a defective flue in the home of Julius Anderson at his property, the old Boston mine, 20 miles northeast of North Bloomfield, burned the house and contents to the ground, starting at 8:30 Tuesday morning. Mr. Anderson last oll of his possessions. The building was under the Bloomfield ditch. It spread to good timber, burning over about 20 acres before being brought under control.

As soon as the fire was reported Ranger Frank MsCaslan stationed at North Bloomfield, left for the fire. He was assisted by 25 CCC boys from the Tahoe Ukiah camp.

Ranger McCaslan stated there is still grave danger of forest fires as there has not been enough rain to wet thoroughly the dry pine needles and other leaves. The lookouts are still at the stations, the dry season being unusually long in this section. Many people feel that the fire season is over since rain has fallen. Fire permits, however, are issued to run from April first to December first.

TREE IDENTIFICATION PRESENTED TO CLUB

Mondays meeting of the Nevada City Woman's Civic Club was a very interesting one. The first hour was spent in club business and was followed by a highiy interesting and instructive talk by supervisor DeWitt Nelson of the Tahoe National forest.

Mr. Nelson chose as his subject, "Tree Identification." He brought to the meeting with him many specimens of trees that grow in California and explained to the ladies points of individual identification. He told of their growth, habitat, commercial value and uses. Throughout his talk he brought out the great beauty and inspirational value of the trees, some of which are the oldest and largest living things in the world.

Mr. Nelson said that Nevada City and environs is in one of the finest belts of tree specimens in the United States. When the talk was concluded the ladies asked many questions wich showed their interest. They each took a specimen home.

PROSPECTOR STRIKES CRANBERRY PATCH

Prospector Peter Johnson who lives with the Coughlan familiy of North Columbia, has discovered on a swampy piece of land belonging to the Coughlan family a patch of fine berries that tasters have dcelared to be real, sweet cranberries. Johnson declines to reveal the growing place of the berries but has showed proof of its existence by bringing in ten gallons of the allegedly real cranberries to the Coughlan residence. A sample of the berries was submitted to L. G. Lageson, who said they are similar to cranberries found in western Oregon. How the berries got a start in the lonely patch near North Columbia is unknown. A sample has also been sent to the State Department of Agriculture for an opinion.

Capital Business
Compiled by
Sacramento Chamber of Commerce

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 12.—California's governmental costs reached their highest point in history during the fiscal year 1935-36, totaling $200,328,060, State Controller Ray L. Riley announced. The total represents an increase of $31,000,000 over the 1934-35 costs and equals an assessment of $33 on every man, woman and child in the state.

Comparative costs of government for the last seven years are:

1930	$123,603,886.91
1931	123,644,803.34
1932	133,291,327.46
1933	122,310,011.27
1934	163,796,953.75
1935	168,506,064.79
1936	200,328,060.62

Around the Dome—Jobs in private employment for 18,317 persons and in public employment for 13,065 persons were found during October by the state employment service. The state department of motor vehicles has set a new low record on the cost of operation of its fleet of vehicles, automobiles operating for an average of 2.27 cents per mile and motorcycles for 1.19 cents per mile. The state received a check for $4,477,767 from the federal government to aid in financing old age pensions, blind aid and children's aid during October, November and December.

The College of Agriculture at Davis has reached the limit of its facilities for handling students, Dean W. L. Howard told the Agricultural Committee of the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce last week. Enrollment this year is nearly 1,000 students, an increase of 25 per cent over last year, he said. More capital improvements will be required to care for te expected increase in college population in 1937 Dean Howard declared.

Governor Merriam has proclaimed November 26th as Thanksgiving Day in a statement in which he said: "The observance of Thanksgiving is the only religious festival held in the United States by virtue of a proclamation of the civil government. Enjoying the result of more than three centuries of unprecedented growth, with harvests sufficiently varied and abundant to meet our physical needs, we deeply appreciate this custom which allows the individual to worship God, the giver of all good things, in his own way."

Sacramento has built more homes during the last ten months than were built here in the previous four years—and still the supply of dwellings is about 1,000 short of what will be required in the next two years. A half million dollars worth of building started in October brought the total of building permits issued since January 1 to $5,853,882. Of this total, $1,767,039 is for construction of 374 new homes. From 1932 to 1935 inclusive a total of 337 one family homes valued at $1,567,010 were constructed.

The eighth annual Sacramento Auto Show will be in the Memorial Auditorium, Sacramento, December 4, 5, 6 H. D. Arnold, chairman of the show committee announced. New models of all cars will be on display.

Separate studies on how to control California forest fires which this season caused losses of more than $12,000,000 have been started by the state and federal forest officials and members of civic organizations following a conference in the state capitol. The group will reconvene soon to develop specific plans. Meanwhile, federal officials were experimenting with "flying fire engines" carrying chemical fire extinguisher bombs, which may be used in fighting northern California fires next summer.

A joint meeting of the Mining Committee of the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce and the Mining Association of California, Sacramento district, will be held at 6:30 p. m. Thursday, November 19th. Waldemar F. Dietrich, head of the mining department of the Sacramento Junior College, will be the speaker. Charles L. Gilmore, chairman of the chamber's committee, has invited all northern California mining men to the meeting.

Lieutenant Governor George J. Hatfield announced he will continue his fight for a 50 cent toll on the San Francisco-Oakland bay bridge. The bridge authority has set the toll at 65 cents a car, covering vehicle, driver and four passengers. Additional passengers will be assessed at five cents each. Hatfield said he believed the bridge could be made to pay for itself and at the same time create a safe margin of surplus at a rate of 50 cents.

In the largest single cash real estate sale in Sacramento in 10 years, the Hotel Berry and Francesca apartments were sold last week for $250,000. The purchaser, D. Lager, this week announced extensive improvements will be made immediately to cost in excess of $25,000. Improvements on Hotel Senator to cost nearly $50,000 also have been started.

Open Letter To The Railroad Commission Of California . . . . . .

Nevada City, California
November 12, 1936.

RAILROAD COMMISSION OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA.

GENTLEMEN:

You no doubt have received the petition mailed you by the Twin Cities Improvement Association. This has been signed by some 650 local consumers of electrical energy, most of whom live outside of in corporated areas and towns.

The public generally believes you permit discrimination in favor of the city dweller. We have sent this petition with the full knowledge of your decision No. 28566, Case 4048, denying the plea from the good citizens of Kentfield, California, for equal charges.

Your contention is: The cost is greater to render rural service. We contend that in our immediate vicinity the cost of suburban service is no more and probably less. In making this assertion we wish to emphasize the fact that in most instances our suburban service is distributed from poles producing large revenues from our mines. Much of this equipment was installed years ago at the beginning of the electrical era. If you can honestly permit different charges as outlined below there is no valid reason why decision 28566 should be considered to apply in this locality.

Our investigation shows you permit the Pacific Gas and Electric Company to collect charges that are not entirely uniform. We insist this is all wrong. In the matter of service charges 5 different amounts are collected. 40 cents, 50 cents, 60 cents, 70 cents and 80 cents.

In the matter of Energy charge we wish to call the attention of the public to the rate designated as D21, Special for territory near Modesto. We are told this is justified on the plea of competition. Why should we carry the burden of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company's competition?

Why not take steps to change the stringent rules and laws and let us enjoy a little competition in this locality. Since it is alleged this vast corporation earns a profit of nearly two million dollars per month a just revision from your body in favor of the people would not be out of order. Such action might curtail the swollen salaries of the higher officials but should not necessarily affect the employees or small stockolders.

USERS OF ELECTRIC STOVES AND HEATERS TAKE NOTICE:

As near as we can determine the following charges are being collected and compares with the various different service charges mentioned above.

See Rate D21	240 kwh costs	near Modesto	$5.85
See Rate D2	240 kwh costs	Grass Valley Patrons	$7.10
See Rate D3	240 kwh costs	suburban patrons	$7.90

This is the charge per month and a local tax of some $24.00 per annum to aid competition. If any figures are in error please publish correction. Small commercial enterprises appear too be taxed 20% more than their town friends.

We have a letter in our possession, written by you last year. You state your studies of the situation before you do not warrant any reduction in rates, or words to that effect. Inside of 60 days from the date of your letter, the Pacific Gas and Electric Company broadcast in screaming headlines the good news of a great reduction in rates.

Must we assume you are not careful students?

We also have in our possession a clipping from the Los Angeles Times dated March 17, 1936 in which you are accused of being the willing tool of the Telephone Company. Such public accusations influence readers to believe in the existence of a Power Trust which reaches its long hand from Wall Street to dictate Public Utility policies in Rural California.

We also desire to call your attention to the recently published item concerning a payment to the City of Lodi, California, of $75000.00 by the Pacific Gas and Electric Co., to desist from generating their own power. Furthermore note all the alleged profits made by various small California Towns in merely buying electric energy from the P. G. & E. Co. and distributing it to the consumer.

Roseville	Approximately	$35,000.00 per year
Redding	Approximately	$50,000.00 per year
Lodi	Approximately	$50,000.00 per year
Alameda	Approximately	$200,000.00 per year

Palo Alto, Pasadena, Modesto Irrigation District and Los Angeles are also reported to enjoy huge profits.

CAMPTONVILLE

By ACTON M. CLEVELAND

CAMPTONVILLE, Nov. 12.—Mr. and and Mrs. J. H. Brooks were the pround parents of an eleven pound baby boy, born last week at a Marysville hospital. Both mother and baby doing well.

E. E. Mulliken of Chico was in town Friday on a short business visit.

Jos. Halkyard of Nevada City was in town Friday on a short business visit.

Chas. A. Jones arrived Saturday from Campbell on a short visit with relatives in this section.

L. W. Kopp, proprietor of Kopps Bakery in Nevada City was in town Saturday on a short visit.

Lew Rose came down from the Donner Summit to spend the week end with his family.

AMBULANCES TO EXERCISE CARE

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 12.—Ambulances and emergency vehicles were cautioned to exercise greater care, and to more closely observe traffic laws in a notice issued today by Chief E. Raymond Cato of the California Highway Patrol.

Such vehicles frequently operate at too high speeds in heavy traffic, it is stated, and directly or indirectly at times cause accidents.

"Ambulances and emergency vehicles having permits to be equipped with red lights and sirens are expected to observe traffic laws," says Cato. "The law permits me to authorize use of this equipment as a warning to other vehicles so they may pull to one side and stop to permit such vehicles the right of way. Too many times such vehicles are driven at speeds not at all necessary, especially after accident victims have been placed in the ambulance. Physicians generally accompany these vehicles and do all that can be done so that excessive speed to a hospital is unnecessary. A few moments saved by high speed often will not compensate for hazards created to others."

FORMER RESIDENT DEAD

Mrs. George Brailey of Grove street is in receipt of a message from her mother in Butte, Montana telling of the death of Mrs. Bary Bracelin Barry, several weeks ago. Mrs. Barry is a native of this city and left here with her late husband many years ago. Mrs. Barry will be well and kindly remembered by many in Nevada City.

SUPREME COURT UPHOLDS JUDGE TUTTLE DECISION

Judge Raglan Tuttle of the Nevada county superior court, who nearly a year ago, was appointed by the state judiciary council to sit temporarily on the State District Court of Appeals, during the illness of one of its members today has the distinction of having a decision written by him, sustained by the United States Supreme Court. It is undoubtedly the first time this honor has been accorded a superior judge in Nevada county.

The decision, written by Judge Tuttle and approved by the other members of the appellate bench, upholds the conviction of eight San Francisco maritime workers found guilty in the superior court of Stanislaus county. for "reckless and malicious possession of dynamite."

The United States Supreme Court refused to review the judgment of the State District Court of Appeals, which upheld the sentences and the validity of the California law.

The petitioners were Robert J. Fitzgerald, Reuel Stanfield, Victor H. Johnson, John Sousa, John Rodger, Henry Silva and John Burrows, sentenced to San Quentin and Patsy Ciambreli sentenced to Folsom.

Counsel for the convicted men appealed on the ground the law was unconstitutional, because "it denies the defendants due process of law and the equal protection of the law."

The men were arrested in Patterson, Stanislaus county, in April last year, with dynamite and clubs in their possession.

The state charged that the dynamite had been stolen and was to be used in an alleged attempted dynamiting of Standard Oil properties at Patterson.

They were found guilty of the charge of reckless possession of explosives and not guilty of three conspiracy counts. Defense Attorney Harold Faulkner filed notice of appeal. The conviction count carries a penitentiary term of from six months to five years for each.

In another decision, the Supreme Court held that a provision of the California alcoholic beverage act imposing a $500 license fee for the privilege of importing beer from out side the state was constitutional.

The tribunal reversed a ruling by a three-Judge Federal District Court in California that the requirement was illegal.

NEW NIGHT WATCHMAN

James Williams of Nevada City has been appointed as night watchman by Chief of Police W. G. Robson to take the place of George Walser who formerly held the position.

WHITE LINE IN CENTER OF ROAD SOON TO WIGGLE

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 12.—If the white line in the center of the highway seems to "wiggle", it does not mean the driver should have his eyes examined, but that a new plan to reduce accidents is being tried out.

This plan, originated by Captain L. B. Kennedy of the California Highway Patrol, now being used at several points in the state, causes the white line to move sharply from right to left to attract attention of motorists to dangerous situations.

On long drives and especially at night, Captain Kennedy believes, a form of hypnosis is often induced by the constant view of the white stripe which divides the highway into lanes. By the plan this hypnosis would be interrupted and the motorist become more alert.

"When the mind ceases to concentrate on objects in the field of vision," Captain Kennedy explains, "the eye may observe an indication of danger without realizing it. The mind in this condition neglects stationery objects, while those that move are seen and registered.

"This is the cause of many highway accidents. Attention is directed only at the road ahead. If something on the road should move, unexpectedly, the mind will take notice. The lane stripes being the principal object in the field of vision, should move to warn of danger. If this stripe is slightly off-set, the forward motion of the car will create the illusion that the stripe is moving."

A man in an insane asylum sat fishing over a flower bed. A visitor wishing to be friendly walked up and said, "How many have you caught today?"

"You're the ninth," replied the nut.
